Hello Festive Viewers,

I’m writing this between Chanukah and Christmas. With the holidays, this edition of the PBS Michiana-WNIT Planner magazine had to be at the printer earlier than our usual schedule. We’ve already broadcast several holiday programs and there are more to come. I hope you are enjoying these special days with good friends, good food, a cozy home, and the great programming on PBS Michiana-WNIT.

Thank you so very much for all your support in 2023. As an organization that is community-owned, most of our financial support comes from the individuals and businesses within our area. With an annual budget just over $4-million per year, that’s a lot of support! The portion you donated has been appreciated!

This year, PBS Michiana-WNIT begins its 50th year of broadcasting. Our first day of transmitting was January 31, 1974. That day came after 6+ years of community organizing and fundraising to put together the funds needed. When we first started, we had one channel and only broadcast limited hours each day. Today, we have five program streams each transmitting 24 hours a day. Who was responsible for that achievement? All of you were. And, you continue to allow PBS Michiana-WNIT to keep growing and being a source of lifelong learning, free to all, with your ongoing support and viewership. Thank you, again.

We will have several celebratory events in 2024, throughout our coverage area. We’ll also share with you our vision for continuing to serve you in the years ahead. That will take a little extra help from everyone. Viewing patterns are changing, technology is changing, and picture quality expectations are increasing. We have a lot of challenges but we’re ready to take them on. But, let’s talk programming.

January and February are going to be “legendary.” On January 25th, at 8pm, we will premiere Legends of Michiana: Kim and Scott Welch, an amazing and successful couple in Elkhart. On February 22nd, at 8pm we premiere Legends of Michiana: Gladys Muhammad, a dynamic community leader in South Bend.

The new year starts with several series premieres on January 7th. Miss Scarlet and the Duke is on at 8pm, All Creatures Great and Small at 9pm, and Funny Woman at 10pm. Fridays, in January, look for encores of Ken Burns documentaries, starting with American Buffalo and Ben Franklin. Gospel, the four-hour documentary produced by Dr. Henry Louis Gates, Jr, airs Monday, February 12th and Tuesday the 13th. I’m watching. Spend some time with your PBS Michiana-WNIT Planner and pick your must-watch programs.

The last few weeks have been a time of great cheer, hospitality, kindness to others and community love. Let’s not stop. Happy New Year, everyone. You are appreciated as viewers and donors. Peace to you.

Sincerely,

Greg Giczi

IT’S OUR GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY!

In 2024, we’re celebrating 50 years on the air since our very first broadcast on January 31, 1974. Thanks to you, our community, we’ve been sharing great shows and learning experiences for 5 decades. We’re incredibly proud of this milestone, and plan to use this year to reflect on the past and get excited about the future.

Get ready for a year of celebration—all made possible by the friends, viewers and supporters like you who have been a part of our journey along the way.
