PBS Michiana – WNIT

May - June 2026

Friends—

The other day, I was watching my three-year-old crouched over a crack in the sidewalk, completely still. He had that look on his face—that total, unselfconscious absorption in the world—as he watched an ant carry something three times its size across the pavement. In that moment, the rest of the world didn't exist. It was just a little boy and a very busy insect.

It's a kind of curiosity that doesn't realize it's "learning" because it just feels like living. I see it every day in my own children, and it's why I take our PBS KIDS mission so seriously. I'm not just looking at programming from the perspective of a station GM. I'm looking at it as a parent. And as a parent, I have such a deep appreciation for what PBS KIDS brings to our community. It's why our local team cares so much about taking these lessons off the screen and into our neighborhoods.

As we move into warmer weather, we're leaning into that sense of discovery. Our education team has just launched a new resource, a toolkit for those "why?" and "how?" moments that pop up over a Michiana summer. We'll be out and about for Kids to Parks Day and over at Four Winds Field for Be My Neighbor Day, making sure that curiosity has plenty of room to roam.

Of course, that sense of wonder isn't just for the preschoolers. That's why I'm so looking forward to David Attenborough's Life on Earth. He looks at a rainforest canopy with the same wide-eyed excitement that my son has for that sidewalk ant. It's the kind of programming that invites you to sit still and take it in.

If you want to go deeper than just the broadcast schedule, PBS Passport is where the real depth is. It's home to full libraries of everything from Masterpiece dramas to history and cooking shows, and a great place to spend more time with the stories you love.

To keep all of this—the local events, the digital resources, the shows we all love—we're holding our annual Day of Giving on May 21. This year, we have a $110,000 matching pool, the largest we've ever had. It's an ambitious goal, but during this window your support will go twice as far in keeping the station strong for everyone.

I hope you find some time this month to step outside and notice something as small and awe-inspiring as that single ant on the sidewalk. I'll see you out there.

With gratitude,

Amanda Miller Kelley
President & General Manager

Celebrating an Incredible Day of Giving!

WNIT Day of Giving was an outstanding success, raising an impressive $148,127 in support of PBS Michiana – WNIT. Surpassing our matching goal is a powerful reminder of what this community can accomplish together.

Your extraordinary generosity not only strengthens our mission to provide quality educational programming services, but also reminds us of the deep connection viewers share with public television. We are truly grateful for your support and moved by the numerous heartfelt messages shared with your gifts. Thank you for standing with us and helping to ensure that PBS Michiana – WNIT continues to educate, inspire, and enrich lives across our region

Thank you!

PBS AMERICA @250

Henry David Thoreau helped define modern environmentalism and nonviolent resistance, yet his life has been obscured by myth. The author of Walden and Civil Disobedience, he was brilliant but flawed, idealistic but opinionated. A writer, scientist and activist, his words resonate urgently with today's challenges as humanity looks for ways to live in harmony with nature—and each other.

We've partnered with the St. Joseph County Public Library Main Branch to bring you a new series "Docs and Discussions" where the community can come together and enjoy a locally-produced documentary from PBS Michiana - WNIT and have fun conversation! Refreshments provided.

Baseball laid the foundation for South Bend's growth. In the early 20th century, Black Studebaker employees formed the Foundry Giants, despite facing long shifts and segregation. The women of the South Bend Blue Sox broke barriers and inspired others to chase their dreams. Migrant farmworkers created a Mexican-American league that fostered decades of community connection and organizing. Today, investment in the South Bend Cubs fuels both the game and downtown's growth. Across generations, baseball has shaped the city - South Bend was, and is, "Built by Baseball."

It was the first time the company performed to celebrate Juneteenth, which marks the emancipation of enslaved Africans in Galveston, Texas in 1865.
